Subject: template for HMGU-styled letter with \LaTeX

March 22, 2016

Dear Madam, Mister,

the \LaTeX version of the template for HMGU-styled letter is configurable with the following elements:

- `\institute{name}` identify the name of the institute (or department);
- `\expeditor{title}{first-name}{last-name}{...}` identify the author of the letter and is written in the margin;
- `\adress{...}` contains the address of the lab;
- `\recipient{...}` contains information about the recipient (name, compagny or lab, address, etc.);
- `\newpart` creates a large vertical space to separate parts of the letter;
- `\newparagraph` creates a small vertical space to separate paragraphs in the letter;
- you can change the date by using the standard `\date` command (use `\today` for current date).

This document needs the HMGU logo (file hmg_u_color_englisch.eps) and the following packages:

- fontenc to create PDF with correct fonts (packages cm-super or lmodern are required to get a good result);
- graphicx to display images (here logos);
- fancyhdr to be able to modify headers and footers;
- color to provide colored fonts;
- ifthen to manage conditions;
- helvet to write with Helvetica font;
- babel with the english option to take into account the particularities of the language.

The file named hmgv-style.tex is mandatory: it contains all the custom commands needed for compilation.

Logos are included in EPS format. Therefore, the compilation has to be done with the following commands: `latex`, `dvi2ps` et `ps2pdf`.
